SAVING FOR THE FUTURE!

Here are a few options to get you started.

1. Traditional or Regular Savings Account give you direct access to your money. This type of account is best used for short term savings. Monthly maintenance fee may cancel out interest earned.
2. High Yield Savings Account is an on-line type of account that usually offers better rates earns than a traditional or regular savings account and tends to charge fewer or lower fees, including monthly maintenance or excess withdrawal fees.
3. Money Market Accounts combine the features of a savings account with a checking account. A higher minimum balance may be required and your interest rate may be based on your balance.
4. CD Accounts this is a timed deposit account which means you agree not to use this money for a set period of time or you will pay penalties.

Before opening any of these or other types of accounts talk to a specialist to discuss which options best fits your needs.
